RE: Repeal Regulations for Modified Point of Origin Area

Dear Scott:

The Yolo County Cattlemen's Association (YCCA) submitted the required signatures to begin the process to repeal the regulations for California Code of Regulations (CCR), Title 3, Division 2, Chapter 3, Section 850, Area Number 1 as authorized in Food and Agricultural Code (FAC), Sections 21111 through 21112. Area Number 1 consists of all of Yolo County.

The criteria used in FAC Section 21111 to establish regulations for a Modified Point of Origin (MPO) area is also used to repeal the regulations. YCCA is responsible for timeframes and costs of the following criteria:

- 30-day notification to the public and to beef and dairy producer organizations (Examples: California Cattlemen's Association, Western United Dairymen, etc.)
- Projected Costs
  - Centralized Meeting Location
  - Printing and Postage
  - Announcement of public meeting to brand owners
  - Posting at local livestock auction and slaughter plant
  - Notice to local newspaper and radio
  - Ballots with signature block

Only cattle producers that are property taxpayers, lessees or residents of the MPO area are permitted to vote. In order to proceed with amending CCR, Section 850, the proposal to repeal the regulation must be passed by a two-thirds margin of those voting.

2

Please coordinate with me the date that YCCA plans to hold the election so that representatives from the Bureau can be present to count and collect the ballots. If the proposal to amend Section 850 is successful the following documents will be required:

- "Declaration of Publication" and a copy of the notice as printed in the local newspaper. Davis Enterprise, Woodland Daily Democrat, Winters Telegraph, California Cattlemen
- Proof of public broadcast of the meeting notification. - KNCI, ~~Sat~~ Sun. Oct 4, 2015
- Original, signed voting ballots.

The following criteria are required in order for CDFA to amend a regulation and will normally take six to eight months:

- CDFA prepares the regulation for publication in the California Regulatory Notice Register
- The regulation must be noticed to the public for a 45-day written comment period (if a regulatory hearing is requested, it must be scheduled and publicly noticed 30 days in advance)
- CDFA will bear the cost of mailing the regulatory documents to its "interested parties" mailing list
- Rulemaking file submitted to the Secretary's Office for approval
- Rulemaking file to Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for approval
- Decision from OAL (30 working day review, excluding holidays)
- Amended regulation is in effect (30 calendar days after approval)

I will await your response for coordinating an election date. Contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

John Suther, Branch Chief
Bureau of Livestock Identification

Constant Contact training and the potential of our website and Facebook page will be among the presentations. We will also receive a legislative update from CCA's Justin Oldfield. Leadership skills will be polished during our President's Breakfast with the help of Susie Magnuson, a past ANCW president. We will honor local unit CattleWomen during our Cowbelle of the Year luncheon and hear about exciting changes at the national level, from ANCW President Melanie Fowle.

The Awards Breakfast will be a fun event. It is here we find out which unit wins the Walt Rodman Award sponsored by California Beef Council. Our Board of Directors Meeting should be productive as we recap this past year and set our sites on 2016.

On behalf of the CCW Executive Committee, I would like to invite our members and those who are considering joining CCW to attend the convention in Sparks, Nev., Nov. 19 through 21. I always leave the CCA/CCW Convention better informed. The opportunity to meet the people that make up our cattle community is well worth the trip and the effort. Please join us for a fun and informative gathering.

California CattleWomen is growing in membership. Our activities across the state make a significant impact on our communities. Between the state and local units, CattleWomen give out over $100,000 in scholarships each year. Classroom visits and community events see CattleWomen front and center carrying the torch for community outreach and youth development activities.

Telling the story of the beef community is at the heart of what we do. If you would like to become a member of the California CattleWomen please contact Karen Moller by emailing membership@cattlewomen.org, or email me at Sheila Bowen at president@cattlewomen.org.

I hope to see you next month in Sparks!

STATE CLIMATOLOGIST SAYS DO NOT COUNT ON EL NIÑO TO END DROUGHT

In mid-August, California State Climatologist Michael Anderson issued a statement to Californians warning them that the forecasted El Niño may not have the kind of moisture in store that would drastically improve California's water depleted natural resources.

"California cannot count on potential El Niño conditions to halt or reverse drought conditions," Anderson said in his statement. "Historical weather data shows us that at best, there is a 50/50 chance of having a wetter winter. Unfortunately, due to shifting climate patterns, we cannot even be that sure."

The current drought has resulted in observations of new, record-high temperatures and record low snowpack for California. Five of the lowest 10 snowpacks on record have occurred in the last decade, including the past four years. The seasonal snowpack is a key element to California's water resources management, modulating winter precipitation into spring runoff for beneficial use through the dry summer.

As California heads into a new water year (October 1 to September 30) with a potential fifth year of drought and expectations of El Niño impacts in play during the winter, questions mount on what can be expected of winter temperatures, precipitation and snowpack for California.

Unfortunately, a historical look at past years with similar El Niño conditions as currently forecasted provide little guidance as to what California might expect this winter. Of years since 1950 with similar ENSO signals (1958, 1983, 1988, 1992, and 1998) three were wet years, average and three were dry (with water year 1992 p a drought). Past years were cooler than the temper we are experiencing now which will impact the rai boundary for any storms that materialize this wint

For more detail and information on the unprec nature of the El Niño phenomenon, visit:

USFWS EXTENDS DEA FOR FEEDBACK NEW E REGULATIONS

On July 16, the US Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) and the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) announced a 60-day extension for comments regarding proposed new regulations for petitions to list species as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act (ESA). The comments, originally due July 20, will now be due by September 18.

Under the proposed rule, petitioners would be required to solicit information from state agencies (such as the California Department of Fish and Wildlife) for species which occur within the boundaries of those states before submitting listing or critical habitat designation petitions for those species to the USFWS. Additionally, the proposed rule would limit petitions to a single species.

According to USFWS and NMFS, the proposed rule is intended "to improve the content and specificity of petitions and to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of the petitions process to support species conservation." Over the coming year, the agencies intend to release additional proposed regulations aimed at: (1) improving transparency and the quality of scientific peer-review; (2) incentivizing voluntary conservation efforts; (3) focusing resources to achieve better success; and (4) engaging the states in the listing process.

CCA is in the process of carefully reviewing the newly proposed rules for ESA petitions, and will provide the USFWS and NMFS with comments on the proposal in advance of the Sept. 18 comment deadline. CCA will track the other proposed regulations the agencies intend to release throughout the year, as well.
