

Dear Sir or Madam;

My vision for agriculture in California is one of small, family farms using organic, humane methods to sustainably raise our food. The best way to achieve this is by the government supporting these small organic farms through it's agriculture programs instead of subsidizing large operations using chemical fertilizers and pesticides. Until the government stops promoting factory farming and chemical inputs and begins working to help farmers create organic, humane, sustainable systems, large scale change will not happen.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely;

Lori Albee
