Avian Influenza Update and Biosecurity Advisory (Outdoor Access Exemption Request)

To: Central California Organic Certifiers

The risk of diseases entering flocks is always present but can be mitigated. Enhanced biosecurity is critical in the face of ongoing disease outbreaks and the wild bird migration season. Reports of the current Avian Influenza outbreak in Europe are especially concerning because of the similarities to the 2014-2015 Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza H5N8 outbreak that occurred here in the United States.

To protect Central California flocks, we have requested that poultry producers separate their poultry from wild birds if possible. We recommended housing poultry inside and discouraging any interaction with wild birds, particularly migrating waterfowl.

We ask that Organic Certifiers permit Central California producers to move their birds in during the migration season (through the end of May 2021) and exempt the outdoor access requirement in order to remain certified during this time. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me directly. Thank you for your cooperation.
