

At the August 14, 2007, pre-hearing workshop, a question was raised regarding the exclusion of powder that is 180 days old as it pertains to the new specifications that were set forth in the recent interim final rule from USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service for Dairy Product Mandatory Reporting Program. After contacting the USDA, no definitive answer was given since their process is currently under review.