

Goat Entry Requirements

California requires an Interstate Livestock Entry Permit for goats moving into the state.

Exemptions:

- Kids less than 18 months of age moving directly to a state or federally approved slaughter facility, that have not kidded, aborted, or are not pregnant.

To obtain an Interstate Livestock Entry Permit, please contact the Animal Health Branch (AHB) permit line at (916) 900-5052 before moving goats into the state. Permits are valid for 15 days after being issued.

California requires a Certificate of Veterinary Inspection (CVI) issued within 30 days before entry with the statement, “The animals are not scrapie-positive or suspect or from a scrapie non-compliant flock.”

Exemptions:

- Goats moving directly to a state or federally approved slaughter facility.

If you are transporting livestock into California with an electronic CVI, please print and present a hard copy to the Inspector at the Border Protection Station. This will prevent future follow up by CDFA personnel to verify the authenticity and accuracy of the document.

California requires all goats imported into the state to bear Official Identification (ID). Official ID must be an identification mark or device approved by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). The ID must be written on, or included on a list attached to the CVI. Official ID may be listed as a range of numbers.

Acceptable forms of official animal ID include:

- Official Eartags that provide unique identification for the individual animal. It must bear the U.S. shield, be tamper resistant, have a high retention rate, and conform to one of the following numbering systems:
 - ⇒ Flock ID tags (flock ID with Individual Animal ID on tag),
 - ⇒ Scrapie program tags,
 - ⇒ Serial ID tags (State code with serial numbers and letters), or
 - ⇒ Animal Identification Number (AIN) (RFID or visual).
- USDA compliant microchips
- Official tattoos:
 - ⇒ USDA flock ID with Individual Animal ID, or
 - ⇒ Registration tattoos, if recorded in a Purebred Registry Association Book with documentation attached to the CVI.

Exemptions:

- Kids less than 18 months of age moving directly to a state or federally approved slaughter facility, that have not kidded, aborted, or are not pregnant.
- Castrated goats less than 18 months of age, except those for exhibition.
