SUBJECT: California Certificates of Approval Web Availability

We are pleased to announce that California Certificates of Approval issued from the year 2000 to present, that do not have national equivalents, are now posted on our web site. The information can be accessed in Portable Document Format from the California Type Evaluation Program (CTEP) page at <http://www.cdfa.ca.gov/dms/InfoGuides/CTEP.htm> and selecting "For California Certificates of Approval (from 2000), please click here."

The table is set up alphabetically by applicant name. By accessing the hypertext Certificate of Approval number you can view and save a copy of the certificate. We are hoping this web access will easily permit officials to view, download or print the "California only" Certificates of Approval more readily than in the past. The information is current to the date of posting. We anticipate periodic updates at a minimum of once each quarter, more often as staffing levels permit.

By checking the national approval link in conjunction with this link, both available on this same page, most certification questions will be answered. Electric watt-hour meters, water meters, and water dispensers will typically be found in this new area.

If you have any questions, please contact Gary Castro, Program Supervisor, at (916) 229-3049 or via e-mail gcastro@cdfa.ca.gov.

Sincerely,

Mike Cleary
Director
