SUBJECT: Location of Marking Information; Retail Motor-Fuel Dispensers

On January 1, 2003 the regulations concerning the required marking information on retail motor fuel dispensers were amended and a new Section 3.30. S.4.4.2. now permits this information to be placed inside the housing behind an access panel or door. This differs from the general code requirement that the information should be readily observable without disassembly or the use of a tool separate from the device.
