1. Does DDRDP Benefits Calculator Tool account for differences in cow breeds? The DDRDP Benefits Calculator Tools uses the California average value for volatile solids production per livestock category (see Table A.2 and A.4 of the Livestock Protocol). At this time, the tool does not account for differences in individual breed's volatile solids production.

2. In response to COVID 19, if applicant cancels in-person meeting for Public Outreach, what approaches an applicant should take to compile with Public Outreach requirement? Applicant can utilize alternative means to conduct community outreach if in-person meetings are canceled. Applicants can use online platform such as webinars or teleconference or any other suitable means after consulting community members or leaders.